High Noon Youth Cutting Clinic

High Noon on June 23, twenty youth gathered at the Murieta Equestrian Center to begin to improve their cutting prowess under the instruction of 2 fine young trainers of the Pacific Coast – Morgan Cromer and Chris Johnsrud.

Morgan and Chris donated their time and efforts and put on 2 days of instruction that would "fine tune" any competitor of any age! In this group, those attending ranged from the 7 year old beginner, Josie Miller, to California High School Rodeo's 2009 Girls Cutting Champion, Jordan Dewar. The clinic also boasted of a handful of new PCCHA Youth members that worked very hard and we hope to see them out cutting in approved youth classes very soon.

Most improved cutter for the two days went to Wilton's own Kristin Talbot. She received a hat can for her efforts. "High Noon" caps were given to all attendees as well.

The PCCHA Youth Fund would like to thank Morgan and Chris for their "Contribution to the Cause" and a very special thank you to Carol Ward for donating the MEC arena and stalls so the kids could cut in a top notch facility.

The PCCHA Youth Scholarship fund provides cutting clinics as part of their annual program to benefit its youth members and their enjoyment with this great sport of cutting. The Fund also provides a generous scholarship program thanks to the generosity of the membership. To inquire about or donate to the PCCHA Youth Scholarship fund, please call
